I have considered Mr Rhode's and find that he is submitting a detailed estimate with the usual report of the Chief Engineer which will request you to keep the Demand in due course -

The layout of the new extension has first estimated at Rs 23,000 - The revised estimate is shaked & now up to Rs 72,528 - The work consists of marking sites, layout roads & conservancy lanes and cross roads with culvert & drains etc on and above much filling in of hits ditches & low ons - To what extent the outlay is going to be recouped by sale proceeds of sites it is now not possible to say - As work has made considerable progress the additional outlay of Rs 49,528 has to be found - I am afraid it will prove too much for the Municipality to bear - And in any case the Municipal Council have not been consulted - The amount may be sanctioned as a grant from State Funds on City Improvements Account Head 17 Excess

A large portion of this item of work has already been executed and what remains to be done is estimated to cost Rs 4000. It cannot be made out from the papers in the file where the pits and hollows to which remains to be filled up are situate. Anyway, the charge on account of establishments and "tools and plant" may, it seems, be waived and the Municipal Council consulted as regards bearing the balance of the cost.

work suggested by the Committee was the Extension of Cantonment roads costing about Rs 16,000 No other work was suggested by the Committee, and even for the work suggested, as above stated, the Sanitary Engineer should have prepared an Estimate & obtained Govt sanction, according to Codal Rules, before putting it on hand.....

The filling in of pits and hollows in Brigade areas should not have been undertaken, but if it was necessary on sanitary grounds, special sanction of Government should have been obtained thereto

There can be no excuse for the Sanitary Engineer ignoring and acting in contravention of the Codal Rules in an important matter of this kind.

Please see the remarks of the Extension Committee dated 31st March 1909 on the Supervisor's explanation of 19th February 1909. The Committee was appointed only to allot sites and had nothing to do with the execution of works. This was entrusted to the charge of a high officer of the D.P W working under the orders of the Chief Engineer He was solely responsible for execution of works under Codal rules and accounting for the expenditure The Committee had no power to give instructions or to the execution of the works and even as regards the additional road way recommended by them, plans and estimates should have been prepared according to rules before the Sanitary Engineer got the work executed But if the works have been satisfactorily done, the charge may be accept- ed by the Chief Engineer. The charge for establishment and tools and plant was not included in the original estimate and may be remitted in the present one The charge for filling pits and hollows for sanitary purposes may be accepted, but filling hollows on sites sold to private individuals is not a legitimate charge on the extension and should be recovered from them

It is to be regretted that in connection with the irregular way in which the work has been carried on the names of the Dewan and the members of the Extension Committee should be brought in, and a ~~recommendation~~ remark made that the works were carried on with their cognizance, and thus the responsibility of the D P W officers attempted to be evaded. NOTE ON THE REVISED PROJECT FOR LAYING OUT ROADS IN THE NEW EXTENSION BANGALORE CITY.

The revised project amounts to Rs72,528 exceeding the original (23,00) by Rs49,528, or, more than 200, This excess is reported to be due to the alterations and improvements suggested by the Extension Committee

2 The original project provided for 14193 feet of roads and lanes, the revised providing for an additional length of 8455 feet

3 The alterations and improvements above referred to comprise the filling in of old wells and large and deep pits including those on the sites sold The provision made for this purpose is 15,325 (6,90C plus 4923 plus 5800) It should be observed that it was never the intention of the Committee to fill in the holes and pits on sites sold to private persons at the cost of Government but that this work has to be done by the parties themselves The provision made in the estimate for this purpose amounts to 11,001/-

4 Owing to rates,

(a) Rs 0-3-6 for mere excavation in ordinary soil appears to be too high

(b) For carting the excavated earth for embankments a rate of 4 annas is allowed taking an average lead of ¾ of a mile.

The Committee do not think that the general lead exceeds 1/3rd of a mile.

(c) For jungle clearing a provision of ₹1662 has been made at 4 annas a sq yd This seems to be very high, more especially when for cutting down trees there is a separate provision of ₹1200 at ₹6 a tree The total estimate comes to ₹ 2862 against ₹400/- in the original estimate The amount realized by the sale of trees is ₹ 348-10-0 only Before handing over the work to the Sanitary Division, some road forming was done by the Municipality when jungle clearing was also taken up

(d) A rate of one rupee for dry stone revetment with blasted stone procurable within a furlong or two also appears to be very high

(e) For gravel collection, a rate of 3½ annas only is allowed Gravel has to come from a long distance If excavation and carriage of cart from a distance of ¾ mile cost ½ annas (3½ annas for excavation and 4 for carriage) how can gravel cost less? It should, on the contrary, cost more so let it be 10 annas a Cubic Yard

SIR,

With reference to your letter No 7336/ml 58-08-27 of the 5th ultimo, forwarding a copy of the Extension Committee's memo on the revised estimate of Rs 72,528 for the formation of the new extension between Chamarajendra and Basavangudi Extensions and requesting to modify it in the light of the remarks therein made, and subsequent to 7615/ml 58-08-30 of 9th idem, I have the honor to resubmit for orders of Government, the revised estimate together with a copy of report No 51 of the 19th ultimo, which gives explanations on the observations made by the new Extension Committee. I have nothing more to add thereto as the several items of work would appear to have been pushed on at the solicitation of the Dewan and of the members of the Extension Committee.

2 The provision for establishment and tools & plant is made as the cost of the work is to be borne by the Municipality and not from Provincial Funds, but Government can waive this if they wish to do so.

according to rules 2 & 3 the Sanitary Engineer got the work executed. But if the works have been satisfactorily done, the charge may be accepted by the Chief Engineer. The charge for establishment and tools and plant was not included in the original estimate and shall be remitted in the present one. The charge for filling pits and hollows for Sanitary purposes may be accepted but filling hollows on sites sold to private individuals is not a legitimate charge on the extension and should be recovered from them.

2 It is to be regretted that in connection with the inspection during which the work has been carried on the name of the Diwan and the members of the Extension Committee should be brought in and a remark made that the works were carried on both their Cognizance and thus the

the responsibility of the Officers of the P.W.D. attached to the Agency. It is nowhere stated in the Correspondence that the Diwan is alleged to have given any instructions as regards the works to be done.

3 In regard to the total cost of the making of the Extension which may be roughly put down at Rs 600000/- it is worthy of note that the house sites are estimated to bring in Rs 4464 which is Rs 14000 more than the estimated cost of acquisition. Correct figures are to be laid before Government and the President of the Bangalore Municipality is requested to furnish the same
